MESSAGE FROM...

IAN BURRELL GLOBAL RUM AMBASSADOR

elcome to the 17th Annual RumFest. The world's longest running rum festival. This year has been a great year for rum with revenue from UK rum sales at £1.08bn in 2023, according to Statista. This means that more and more people are buying and drinking rum whether it's a super premium rum from Barbados, or a spiced rum made here in the UK. As you take a tour around the show, you'll find rums from 6 of the 7 continents. (One day we'll have a rum from Antarctica). This demonstrates how diverse the rum category is. Remember all rum's must be made from a by-product of sugarcane, so with sugarcane grown and sold in many countries around the world, there naturally will be variations on how rum is made. Whether it's from Molasses, Syrup or Cane Juice. The type of equipment that is used to distil. (Pot Still or Column Still). The type of barrel that is used for ageing (American or French oak. Whisky or Wine Cask). Even whether to sell it as a 'clear rum' or 'coloured rum'. There are many interpretations of what a rum is, which is why RumFest is the best place to learn about rum's nuances. We attract some of world's best rum makers and ambassadors that are very happy to share their rum knowledge, as well as a glass of their rum. So look out for the Rum VIP's with their little badges, as they will have a few rum stories to tell.

Worthy Park 16YO WPL bottled at cask strength

While the history of Worthy Park dates back over 350 years and has the first record of rum production out of any of the existing rum distilleries in Jamaica, it was only in 2005 that we built a new distillery and re-entered the rum business. At this time,we started distilling and aging rum again. That makes this release one of our oldest rums we've ever bottled. 100% distillery aged in American White Oak (Ex-Bourbon Barrels) this rum was bottled straight out of the cask, un-diluted and with zero additives. 100% Jamaican Pot-Still rum from the islands last remaining Single Estate producer.

Renegade Cane Rum

BARBADUS

TOURISM MARKETING INC.

Barbados, a renowned Caribbean paradise, is celebrated for its pristine beaches, crystal-clear waters, and vibrant culture. However, beneath the surface lies a hidden treasure of Bajan heritage: rum shops. These unassuming establishments are far more than mere drinking spots; they serve as the pulse of local life, a testament to history and culture. The island is hailed as the birthplace of rum, a spirit that has etched its way into the heart of the island's identity. In 1703, the iconic Mount Gay Rum Distillery was established in Bridgetown, marking the beginning of a legacy. Mount Gay is celebrated not only for being one of the world's oldest rum producers but also for its unwavering commitment to quality and tradition. St. Nicholas Abbey, a centuries-old plantation house, is another testament to Barbados' rum history. With its antique equipment and historic surroundings, this enchanting estate offers visitors a glimpse into the island's rum-making heritage. Visitors can also explore Foursquare Rum Factory free of cost, learn about the different stages of rummaking, sample a wide array of brands produced there, and see some incredible antique distilling equipment first-hand. Barbados is notorious for its multitude of rum shops, with over 1,500 scattered across the island. These unassuming establishments serve as vibrant epicentres of culture, transcending their role as mere places to enjoy a drink. In a rum shop, one discovers a microcosm of Barbadian society, where people of diverse backgrounds converge to lime.' This Bajan term encompasses relaxation, mingling, and indulging in great rum and local cuisine. The buzz within these rum shops is not limited to libations; they serve as hubs for local gossip, spirited conversations, and occasionally, business negotiations. Many of these establishments offer traditional Barbadian cutters, akin to sandwiches, crafted with crusty Bajan salt bread -the perfect accompaniment to the flavorful drinks. The significance of rum shops in Barbadian culture is so profound that the Bajan Association of Rum Shops (BARS) was established to safeguard their heritage. This non-governmental organization offers crucial support and guidance to rum shop and bar owners, nurturing their businesses and preserving the cultural tapestry they represent. Barbados' extensive array of rum shops are testaments to the island's enduring rum culture. While the distillery preserves the historical legacy of rummaking, the rum shops breathe life into the island's vibrant culture and sense of community. As you explore Barbados, these facets of the island's heritage offer a captivating journey through time and taste. It's an invitation to experience the authentic essence of Barbados—a blend of history, heritage, and the warm embrace of its people.
